FUSED GLASSWORK

Each piece of glass created by Handmade Heaven is kiln-fused glass. Also known as 'warm glass', it's handcut then fired in a specialised glass kiln. The process is carefully controlled to get the best results and to ensure the piece will fuse together safely.

All their glass is fully kiln-annealed for strength and durability so should last a lifetime, if treated with proper care.

Handmade Heaven specialise in vibrant and individual glass works such as their distinctive selection of coasters, with new styles and designs added regularly. They are always developing and growing their popular kiln-fused glass designs.

FUSED GLASS ART

Handmade Heaven fused glass art will make a real statement in any home, any office or anywhere else. The contemporary work created by Handmade Heaven will never fade nor lose its vibrancy and impact.

As with all their work, every piece is unique and handcrafted with the utmost care and attention to detail.

Currently they offer framed artwork and free-hanging pieces.

COMMISSION SERVICE

Handmade Heaven can custom-make specially commissioned fused glass work and jewellery pieces to the client's specifications. They welcome all commissions and offer a professional, friendly and personal service.
